National housing market trends

House prices

The latest figures released by both the Halifax and Nationwide indicate that house prices rose in the year to July compared to June. However, both anticipate that there will be little change in the market over the coming months.

Economy

Interest rates have been raised 0.75%, just the second increase in over a decade and a unanimous decision by the Monetary Policy Committee. Meanwhile, the Bank of England has raised its forecast for GDP growth over the year to 1.5% from 1.4%.

Transactions

Sales volumes in the first half of 2018 were 4.5% lower than the same period in 2017. Provisional estimates from the HMRC indicate that there were 96,340 residential transactions in June, down 5.7% on a year ago.

Demand

The number of mortgage approvals for new home purchases picked up in June to be largely the same level they were a year earlier. The total amount of gross lending, at £21.7 billion, was 4.2% higher than in June 2017 according to the Bank of England.

Investment

Fewer properties are being listed to rent which is diminishing available supply across all parts of the country according to the RICS. With demand for rental properties remaining resilient, rents are expected to increase with agents forecasting a 15% rise over the next five years.
